

CHUNDA
SHIKAR OUDI

UDAIPUR, RAJASTHAN

Khamagani-Welcome to Our Own Forest... The Leopard's Den-Chunda Shikar Oudi

Chunda Shikar Oudi is set amidst 150 hectares of jungle overlooking a private freshwater lake named "Mahadev Sagar" enhancing the stunning landscape. The estate is now a sanctuary for a variety of plants, animals, birds and fish. The conservation efforts have been successful because people living close to the property have a stake in its preservation.

Chunda Shikar Oudi at Bathera, along with the jungles, common lands and surrounding villages covering 50 sq km was the Jagir of Bathera, awarded to the family in 1711 for leading the Mewar army to victory against the Mughals. The family were administrators of the Jagir until 1947 when the State of Mewar merged with the Union of India. Some portions of the Estate that are today in custody of the family, are home to history, culture, architecture, temples, crafts and festivals, a rich heritage-referred to as the "Bathera Virasat".

The Legacy and conservation of the land and its heritage is being taken forward by the Chunda Group. It belongs to one of the noble families of Thana a part of the erstwhile state of Mewar. Their first venture was Chunda Palace. This beautiful with Magnificent state of art Palace was made with the idea to revive; preserve and showcase the lands and own style of miniature paintings. Every, single inch of the walls and ceiling have been used for paintings making it a masterpiece. This was the vision of Thakur Ghanshayam Singhji of Thana. The same is desired to be continued by his successor at Chunda Shikar Oudi and in many other projects.

WALKING AROUND Chunda Shikar Oudi

"Experiences at The Lodge"

1. Nature Walk

A walk in the nature can give you a dose of wilderness, you need to refresh your spirit. Even on hot sunny day with some shade and cool breeze complement the atmosphere. Nature walks are great way to soothe our mind and to appreciate nature's tranquility and subtle gifts while still getting some exercise. Getting outside and walking in natural environments help unwind bodies and minds alike. Nature walks as a time for introspection on a chance to learn about wildlife, either way we should make most of the stroll into wilderness. Strolling through the environment you can actually increase the ability to focus and concentrate, using your five senses- smell, sight, hearing, touching, tasting, and listening to chirping of the birds and trying to look for them helps to develop these senses. And the concept of naturopathic medicine is also associated with the nature and natural environment.

Being outdoors creates "the observer", "the scientist", "the inspired" and "the seriously curious". You can feel the gentle breeze on the skin and the trail under the feet. Breathe in and notice the clean and crisp air. We strongly believe in the healing power of nature.

2. Sunset View/ Sundowner

Everyone gravitates to viewing the setting sun sipping coffee, tea, juice or short snacks. Indulging in the mesmerizing sight of the huge orange fire ball going down. The evening sky as live dramatic with its vibrant hues of the sun going down making it look like painting with color spread and the moon rising on the other side. Enjoy the Moment in the lap of Nature.

3. Star Gazing

'A Star is Born"-Ever billion years...

Gently singing Twinkle, twinkle, little star may lull a baby to sleep, but beyond the confines of the Earth's atmosphere the words aren't exactly accurate. A correct albeit less smoothing, retention might be: Emit, Emit Gigantic ball of gas.

Gazing through the Milky Way look at the 300 billion stars, look how they shine for you. Looking through the telescope at far away mysteries of galaxies and consolation.

"Somewhere, something incredible is waiting to be knowns."

-CARL SAGAN

4. Fishing - Matsya

Angling -- Catch & Release

The history of angling is as old as the world. From the time there were fishes in the in the sea, rivers and lakes people have been catching them the earliest known reference to fishing date back to the ancient world. All civilization has been fishing. The new advance fishing gears and increasing knowledge of angling techniques and awareness of the habitat has made it popular hobby. It is the perfect way to relax, an antidote to the frenzies of modern existence. Which other sport don't offers you hours of tranquility and relaxation, in great outdoors at the same time presents you with the opportunity to catch a fish and release it back in the nature?

If there is one fish that India is renowned for, it's the Masheer.

5. Fish Feeding

Sit beside the lake enjoying the calmness of the water and the school of fish with them by feeding the fish and dipping your feet in the water letting them nibble your sole.

6. Horse Riding - Equestrianism/Asvarohanam

As a child it is everyone's dream to be like a cowboy or a cowgirl same as in the western movies, sitting on a horse back. Come live your dream and try ridding the Marwari horses-the local breed.

7. Boating In The Lake

Cruise through the serine pristine waters of the lake within the property amidst nature's lap. Surrounded by the beautiful old indigenous trees. View the gorgeous aquatic birds and waders.

8. Herbal Garden

A visit to the herbal garden where we grow the herbs using all organic means and they are local to the region. These are used in your daily healing procedures, be it food or your treatments.

9. Yoga

It is all about harmonizing your body in a pre-vedic Indian tradition where you calm down fluctuation of the consciousness. In this beautiful settings. Every Room is provided with yoga mats.

It is "uniting the human spirit with the Divine Spirit."

10. Meditation

In these stressful times it is very important to have control over your mind. It is to calm your thoughts step by step focusing on your inner self. Please feel free to meditated at specified places.

11. Kreda

Kid's activity area this area is dedicated to children below 18 years. Where they have traditional indoor games. They gather knowledge about these traditional games as well about the surroundings they are present in. They can be accompanied with elders. The timings are 7AM to 7PM
